

Meet Mynor and Nancy, a couple who beat the odds to become a family!

It all started in 2017, when Mynor and two of his brothers resettled in North Carolina through the Central American Minor (CAM) family reunification program, joining their stepmother and father. CWS Durham helped Mynor's stepmother with the petitioning process to bring the boys here and also provided resettlement services to them once they arrived.

Meanwhile, Mynor's now-wife, Nancy, was resettled in Minnesota through the same program.

But before their arrival in the U.S. comes the story of how Mynor and Nancy "met" for the first time. It happened at the U.S. embassy in El Salvador, where they spotted each other during pre-settlement processing. They didn't have the chance to talk that day... but fate had other plans! Over a year later, they connected on Facebook and hit it off.

Mynor and Nancy's families weren't sure about their relationship at first. Some were worried about the distance, while others were concerned about their age difference (Nancy is older). But love won! After a long-distance romance, Nancy took a leap of faith and moved to North Carolina 6 years ago to be with Mynor.

Things weren't easy at first. They shared a small room with an inflatable mattress and had to rely on taxis to get around. Nancy even missed the snow from her former home!

But they stuck together, and things soon got brighter. They bought their own car and moved into a full apartment.

Then came another challenge: they wanted to have a baby, but things weren't progressing. Doctors said it wouldn't be possible for Nancy to get pregnant. Yet, they never gave up! With some help from a healer and maybe a touch of magic, Nancy finally became pregnant! The couple was overjoyed to welcome their beautiful baby girl two years ago.

In 2022, they got married, and last month, assisted by CWS Durham's immigration legal services team, they became U.S. citizens. Their next goal? Buying their first home!

Mynor and Nancy's story is one of hope and perseverance. They show us that through love and determination, anything is possible!
